Undergraduate Mentorship

President's Research Assistantship Program, Soka University, 2025-26

At Soka, I mentored five undergraduate research assistants across two major projects. Three students supported my first book project by compiling and analyzing archival materials (cultural and ecological) from the Archives territoriales de Martinique and assisting with formatting and bibliographic work. Two other students assisted me with research for a translation of Patrick Chamoiseau's Les neuf consciences du Malfini. These collaborations provided students with hands-on experience in archival work, environmental studies, literary and cultural studies, and translation.
